SERVICE ON THE SUBWAY MUST BE IMPROVED

Utterly Inadequate Since the Strike, as Evening World Has Charged, for the Accommodation of the Public, Says the R. T. Board.

BELMONT'S MAN ADMITS FEWER TRAINS ARE RUN.

Comptroller Grout Angriily Declares that Public Suffers Needlessly and Tells His Own Experience—President Orr Receives Flood of Complaints.

Urged by the public indignation voiced in The Evening World at the exorbitant service of the Interborough Company in the Subway and on the "L" since the strike was broken, the Rapid Transit Commissioners called upon the officers of the company to-day for a tabulated statement, and when it was received and read before the Commission, Comptroller Grout denounced the Interborough system and said that what was wanted was an adequate service.

Alexander H. Orr, president of the Commission, produced a tabulated statement received from Vice-President Bryan of the Interborough. He said before reading it:

"Used by the stories of the poor service on the 'L' and in the Subway I read in The Evening World and other papers I felt that the tabulated statement showing the conditions now on the company's roads as compared to the conditions before the strike.

Less Trains Run.

"I see by this statement that the Interborough Company on March 4, the day before the strike, ran 746 trains on the Broadway branch of the Subway, and that to-day they are running 740 trains.

"The report says also that on March 6 750 trains were being run on the Lenox avenue branch of the Subway, whereas to-day only 735 trains are running on that branch."

"The number of cars or trains that are being run is not the question involved," interrupted Comptroller Grout. "The question is the regularity and adequacy of the service. I boarded an express train at City Hall the other night, and got off at Forty-second street to take a local. Two express trains entered and left the station before one local arrived."

"I don't care if the company has got 10,000 cars in the Subway. They are not run on schedule time and at short intervals; the service is not adequate and steps should be taken to see that it is made so."

President Orr said that he had had no disagreeable experience in the Subway, but had received innumerable complaints from friends and acquaintances, telling of their troubles. He agreed with the Comptroller that something should be done.

JOCKEYS WHO FIGURED IN HANDICAP AT BENNINGS.

WOMAN LESSEE OF FIRE TRAP HELD

Coroner's Jury in Verdict Declares that Mrs. Cecilia Lerner Was Guilty of Gross Negligence in Keeping the Door to the Roof Locked.

After being out nearly two hours the Coroner's jury, before which the inquiry into the Allen street fire was conducted, returned a verdict that resulted in the immediate arrest of Mrs. Cecilia Lerner, the lessee of the building, and the sending to the House of Detention as a witness the janitress, Mrs. Delzinsky. The verdict, which also severely censured the Tenement-House Commission, was as follows:

"We find that the victims came to their death by suffocation from fire and smoke, the origin of the fire being unknown."

"We also find the lessee of the premises, Mrs. Cecilia Lerner, to be guilty of gross negligence in keeping the door leading to the roof locked."

"We also censure the Tenement-House Commission for not properly inspecting the condition of the premises and for allowing the said door to remain locked."

"We also find that the tenement-house laws relating to the proper lighting of the building were violated."

Mrs. Lerner was in the room when the verdict was rendered, and Coroner Goldenkrantz ordered her to be placed under arrest at once. Later she was held in $2,000 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

During the inquiry the janitress, Mrs. Delzinsky, testified that she had put out all the lights in the hallways of the tenement at 10 P. M. under orders from Mrs. Lerner. This in itself is a misdemeanor.

It developed at the last hearing that the fire started in a tin grease pail in the restaurant of Isidore Davis, on the

FOR ONE NOSE RED AS ROSE ASKS $2,000

Miss Craig, Lecturer, Loses Case Against Doctor Who Treated Her.

Living a double life of heavy texture Miss Emily E. Craig, in the witness chair in Justice Conlan's part of the City Court to-day, revealed to the jury a tip-dipped nose, the end of which was big and very red, for which she demanded $2,000 damages from the nose doctor to whom she went for treatment in 1902.

Miss Craig said she was a lecturer, but that she had a very long nose with a tendency to turn up at the end, and she went to the doctor to have it shortened and the tip lowered, submitting to the treatment on his statement that it would be polished, and that she could have an epiphany, or Roman, or a Greek nose, as she liked. Instead, she was subjected to great pain, the chronically veins were broken down, causing it to swell and blossom, as shown, "causing her great anguish in her nose and body."

But Justice Conlan dismissed her complaint on her own testimony.

STRICKEN WITH APOPLEXY AT WIFE'S TOMB

Aged Jonathan Reed Found Dying Beside Coffin of Loved One.

Jonathan Reed, seventy years old, one of the wealthiest and best known citizens of the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn, was stricken with apoplexy in the tomb of his wife in Evergreen Cemetery this afternoon. He was taken to the Bradford Street Hospital in a divine condition.

Mr. Reed's wife died eight years ago and he had a fine tomb erected for her. Although perfectly normal about everything else, Mr. Reed had the notion that his wife still lived and had the tomb fitted up like a living room, and he spent hours every day there. It was the old man's firm belief that everything he said to his wife was understood by her and he also pretended to understand responses which he said she made.

A workman in the cemetery found him lying unconscious on the floor beside his wife's casket to-day and had him removed to the hospital.

THIEF KICKED MAN IN FACE.

The attempted robbery of the plumbing and electrician's shop of John T. Arkinson and Roscoe C. Stevens, at No. 77 East One Hundred and Seventy-eighth street, was learned to-day, the attempt having been made at midnight. Some time ago the place was cleaned out by burglars, and Mr. Stevens fitted up the place with burglar alarms. At midnight the alarm began. He ran to the store and the burglar made for a six-foot fence, which he was climbing when Arkinson seized him by one leg, but with the other the burglar kicked Arkinson in the face and escaped.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Forecast for the thirty-six hours ending at 8 P. M. Friday for New York City and vicinity: Partly cloudy to-night; Friday warmer, with showers during the evening or at night; fresh southeast to south winds.

Ferdinand Schumacher, the famous miller, once said: "But the winter wheat cereals and other crops are better. That's why I grow them in the South." That's why you'll find them in the South.

BY BOZEMAN BULGER.

(Special to The Evening World.) MEMPHIS. Conn. March 23.—The Giants kept up their daring tactics to-day, and again the Memphis Minor Leaguers were smothered. Against overwhelming odds, the locals were kept and worked hard from the jump. The weather was again typically Southern, and under the sweltering sun the New Yorkers skinned the ball around the lot and ran bases with a reckless abandon that piled up runs in clusters.

The Giants kept up their hitting streak and showed absolutely no mercy. Mathewson started in to pitch despite his sore arm and without over-exerting himself kept the Southern Leaguers guessing. White relieved him and showed up well. His condition is almost perfect.

First Inning.

Tamsett struck out. Duffy hit to left for two bases. Collins was safe on Mathewson's error. Alexander fled out to Dahlin. Keenan fled out to Merfies. NO RUNS.

Doolin out. Tamsett to Keenan. Browne singled and stole second. McGinn beat out a bunt and Browne scored on Sugg's wild throw. Merfies singled and stole second. Dahlin hit a grounder to short. McGinn out in chase between third and home and Merfies out playing too far off second. ONE RUN.

Second Inning.

Jeffries singled. Walters out, catcher to first. Hurlburt out. Dahlin to McGinn. Suggs hit for two bases, scoring Merfies. Tamsett singled. Duffy hit for two bases, scoring Suggs. Collins out. Gilbert to McGinn. TWO RUNS.

Devlin fouled out to Hurlburt. Gilbert struck out. Bowerman hit for two bases. Mathewson then walked. Gilbert to McGinn. NO RUNS.

Third Inning.

Alexander singled. Keenan sacrificed. Mathewson to McGinn. Jeffries out. Gilbert to McGinn. Walters out. Gilbert to McGinn. NO RUNS.

Doolin singled and got second on Tamsett's wild throw. Browne fled out to Jeffries. Doolin taking third. McGinn hit by pitcher. Merfies doubled, scoring Doolin. Dahlin hit by pitcher. Devlin hit to short, and he and Dahlin were both doubled up. Tamsett to Keenan. ONE RUN.

Fourth Inning.

Hurlburt out. Devlin to McGinn. Herr, batting for Suggs, singled. Tamsett singled. Duffy hit to Devlin and Herr went out at third. Duffy safe. Collins out. Mathewson to McGinn. NO RUNS.

Herr went in to pitch. Gilbert walked and got to second on Herr's wild pitch. Bowerman then walked. Mathewson popped out to short. Gilbert side third. Bowerman stole second and Gilbert scored on the play. Doolin fouled out to Hurlburt. Browne fanned. ONE RUN.

Fifth Inning.

Alexander hit for two bases. Keenan sacrificed. Mathewson to first. Gilbert covered the bag. Jeffries walked and stole second. Walters hit to short and Alexander scored. Everybody was out on Dahlin's bad throw to third. Hurlburt fled to short. Jeffries out trying to get home on double steal. One run.

BY ALLEN SANGREE.

(Special to The Evening World.) NEW ORLEANS, La., March 23.—Griffith's team of pennant racers went up against the crack ball team of Dixie this afternoon, named the Pelicans of New Orleans, and there was plenty of betting that New York would lose. The locals are famed for hard hitting and clever pitching. They made "Rube" Waddell look like a real Rube, they lambasted Charley Comiskey's White Sox and their ambition only craved Griffith's scalp.

The Highlanders rather expect to drop one game here at least, but Griffith wants to win each and all. He has been saving up the Herculean Putnam for this task and "Doc" Newton as first aid to the injured. Both men are in fettle.

First Inning.

It was hot as New York in July when the boys scampered out, and Jimmy Williams easily lost two pounds of weight in the preliminary practice.

A big, enthusiastic crowd was on hand, quite a number of them being New Yorkers, who plugged for the Gotham team.

Second Inning.

Elberfeld dug up the sharp roller of both Stanley and Nadeau and tossed them out at Anderson's corner. Hahn batted. Keeler, NO RUNS.

Dougherty struck out. Keeler smashed one over Nadeau's head for two cushions. Elberfeld walked. Yeager placed a beauty to right for a single, but Keeler was plucked at the plate on a line throw by Hahn to Sullivan. Hahn did the same trick to Elberfeld on Anderson's safe swipe to right. NO RUNS.

Third Inning.

Beck out. Newton to Anderson. Elberfeld and Anderson took proper care of Rohe. Anderson ran to first with Genins' weakling. NO RUNS.

Fultz's hunt to first in time. Keenan singled to left. Newton fanned. NO RUNS.

Fourth Inning.

Sullivan walked. Newton's wild throw to Anderson put Phillips on first. Stanley sacrificed. Conroy to Anderson. Conroy threw Sullivan out at the plate on Nadeau's sharp grounder—a quick play Nadeau out. Kleinow to Elberfeld. NO RUNS.

Phillips went in to pitch for New Orleans. Anderson walked and went to second while Conroy died. Beck to Genins. Fultz out. Place to Genins. Kleinow lined into Phillips mit. NO RUNS.

Fifth Inning.

Hahn out. Conroy to Anderson. Beck out the same way. Rohe fled to Keeler. NO RUNS.
